

19th Annual Research Symposium

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Dwight E. Adams
Director, Forensic Science Institute
University of Central Oklahoma

Prior to becoming the first director of the Forensic Scientific Institute in 2006, Dr. Adams served 23 years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in Quantico, Virginia, as Director of the FBI Laboratory. During his FBI tenure, he served as a member of the FBI research team developing DNA techniques first used in 1988. He has testified as a DNA expert over 130 times, aided in the creation of the National DNA Database, and has been responsible for solving or aiding more than 100,000 cases nationwide. In 2003, he was the recipient of the Presidential Rank Award as Distinguished Executive, the highest award presented in the federal government.

Other sessions include:

LSAMP research posters and oral presentations
Research ethics seminar
Networking opportunities
Graduate school opportunities

NSF-HRD-0902027

Who: Oklahoma Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation (OK-LSAMP)

When: Saturday, September 21, 2013

Where: Oklahoma State University, Stillwater campus

Information: www.ok-lsamp.okstate.edu

Contact: Fara Williams at 405-744-7820 or fara@okstate.edu

