

Charles Spurlock, Ph. D.

Assistant Professor
Langston University
PO BOX 1500
Langston, OK 73050
405-635-5964 (cell)
cjspurlock@langston.edu

A. PROFESSIONAL PREPARATION

University of Oklahoma	Norman, OK	Economics, Honor’s Program	Bachelor of Arts Summer 1983
University of Toledo	Toledo, OH	Sociology	Master of Arts 1996
Michigan State University	East Lansing, MI	Sociology	Doctorate 2010

B. APPOINTMENTS

2014 – Present	Assistant Professor, Langston University
2012 – 2014	Statistician at MCET
2006 – 2012	Special Lecturer, Oakland University
2005 – 2006	Lecturer, Central Michigan University

C. PRODUCTS

(i) Most Closely Related to the Proposed Project

1. Fothergill, A. and Peek, L. Reviewed by Spurlock, C. 2018. Children of Katrina. Human Ecology Review. 24 (1): 199-203.

(ii) Other Significant Products

1. Spurlock, C. and Liedka, R.V. 2013. The Near East Family: Organized for Business? Sociological Perspectives. 56 (2):241–260.

2. Nadjie Al-Ali and Nicola Pratt. Review by Spurlock, C. 2012. What Kind of Liberation? Women and the Occupation of Iraq. Arab Studies Quarterly. 34 (3):189-190.

D. SYNERGISTIC ACTIVITIES

- Faculty Sponsor and founder of Pi Gamma Mu, Langston University, Chapter Oklahoma Iota, earned Merit Roll 2019.
- Presenter of thirteen research papers at international, national, regional and local sociology conferences.
- Organized four research panels at regional sociology conference.
- Presented research projects with IRB approval include Latinx Resilience and the Production of Belonging (IRB 214); Risk: An Exploratory Study into the Politics, Economics and Environmental Concerns Regarding Energy Extraction in the Age of Man-Made Seismicity (IRB 201)
- Teaching activities include Demography, Inequality, and Urban Sociology, all of which fit within the needs of the current project.