

2012

at

The University of Oklahoma

10:00 am to 3:00 pm, Wednesday, November 14th, 2012

National Weather Center

Norman, Oklahoma

(The First Announcement – August 22, 2012)

GIS Day 2012 at OU will showcase geospatial technologies (remote sensing, global positioning systems and geographical information systems) and their applications. Participation is open to middle and high school students, college undergraduate and graduate students, academic departments, research centers, private industry, NGOs, state and federal agencies, and the public. The activities in this event will include (1) student poster contest, (2) information displays, (3) image and map gallery, and (4) technology exhibits and demonstrations.

Come to showcase your work in geospatial science and technologies

Come to see and explore the potential of geospatial science and technologies

Best poster awards for undergraduate and graduate students

Citizen science awards for geo-referenced field photos

Reserve your booth space now via email csa@ags.ou.edu

Registration at <http://www.eomf.ou.edu/gisday/>

Sponsors

OU Office of the Vice President for Research, OU College of Atmospheric and Geographic Sciences, OU Graduate College, Oklahoma NASA Space Grant Consortium, Oklahoma NSF EPSCoR, NSF EPSCoR Track II project, and CSA

Contact persons

Prof. Xiangming Xiao (xiangming.xiao@ou.edu; <http://www.eomf.ou.edu>) and Ms. Melissa Scott (mscott@ou.edu; <http://www.csa.ou.edu>)

For questions or accommodations on the basis of disability contact 325-4871 or mscott@ou.edu